THE BABY SHOW

Most Successful Ever Given—Complete List of Winners to Be Announced Later

The Baby Show held yesterday afternoon in the Young People's Building, was a success in every particular and showed marked improvement over the arrangements of last year's show. It is planned now to make the baby show an annual affair for which plans can be made far in advance and to which the mothers of Alexandria may look forward. A sum in excess of one hundred dollars was realized and after the very slight expenses are paid, the Junior Auxiliary will be able to start its winter's work with a substantial amount.

The judging was delayed by the absence of Dr. Llewellyn Powell but Dr. O. A. Ryder of the original judge's committee, was ably assisted by Drs. H. A. Latane and C. A. Amos, who gladly gave their services. The doctors were assisted by Miss Mary Monroe, Miss Elsie McDonald, Miss Isabel Washington, and Mrs. Charles F. Holden. More than one hundred babies were registered by the committee, and these young Alexandrians, accompanied by mothers and friends in addition to the friends of the Auxiliery, taxed the capacity of the auditorum.

The judging was done with great accuracy and fairness. Each contestant's weight, age and development was given consideration and the awards made only after serious consultation on the part of the judges. Mrs. Julian T. Burke, Jr., and Mrs. D. Milton French, the committee on prizes, had provided an attractive array of wards which were displayed upon the platform. In this connection, the Auxiliary wishes to thank J. E. W. Timberman, the Rexall Store and Edgar Warfield, Jr. for the attractive prizes donated.

In addition to the prizes, blue ribbons were awarded in each class to the prettiest girl and boy. The classes were so large that it was impossible to keep an absolutely correct list of prize winners. The committee would prefer not publishing

PARKER-GRAY SCHOOL

The Snowden School Alumni Association has entered upon its year's work for the session of 1921-1922.

We collected $1,003.75 and expended for needed articles which were placed in the building $992.79 during the last session.

We contemplate doing something this year.

The following are some of the much needed things; a clock for each class room, six globes, a piano and a drop curtain for the stage in the auditorium.

We have sent out letters to the members and friends and hope they will respond at once.

We are asking for the small sum of $100 from each person and trust you will contribute at once, as some of these articles are needed in the class rooms now.

We promise you if you will come to our assistance now, that we will not call on you again for a long time.

We heartily thank you for your past favors.

Balance from last session, $10.96.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

From Our Special Correspondent

Washington, Oct. 26.—The office of Royal A. Haynes, U. S. Prohibition Commissioner, is one of the busiest places at the National Capital just at present. Since Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury put out his regulations permitting beer, malt, ale and wines to be used as medicines, hundreds of applications have come in from all parts of the country from brewers and others who express a desire to get back into the game of manufacturing something with a real "kick" in it. The regulations have created a panic in the prohibition office in Washington, for Secretary Mellon did not prepare his subordinates for his action. He sprang the regulations when they least suspected them, even after most of the officials of the prohibition unit had gone to their homes for the night. But those charged with the enforcement law say the "wet" spell throughout the country will be of short duration as they expect Congress to act upon the anti-beer bill soon after the disposal of the tax measure. Incidentally, no beer can be manufactured in Virginia as that state has laws of its own preventing the manufacture or sale of intoxicants of any kind.

Intimate friends of former President Wilson in Washington deny the reports circulated here during the past week to the effect that he has sold his house at the National Capital and intends to make his future home in California. Mr. Wilson, these friends declare, will continue in Washington, carrying out his original intention of practicing law. He is slowly improving in health, but continues to follow a well established routine of reading, writing and automobile riding, seeing a few visitors, chiefly those who are close, personal friends.

The War Department service is almost disorganized. It is all because the administration will cut the American forces on the Rhine to about 5,000 troops. The entire service wants to be assigned to this delightful billet.

Difference in the foreign exchange and absence of prohibition are reasons in themselves which account for the desire to serve in Germany. The army and civilian representatives of the government believe it is not a good thing to leave the same men in the same place too long. Accordingly, plans are being made to transfer officers and men who have been on duty in Germany to other posts and assign new men to their places. Practically all tht men now in Germany will be withdrawn and new men substituted.

If plans now being worked out by Secretary of Commerce Hoover are successful approximately $1,000,000,000 will be saved to builders of small dwellings and apartments in the next few months. Workers through a newly organized division of housing, Mr. Hoover is trying to standardize building codes of the big cities in a way to reduce generally building costs 10 per cent. and plumbing equipment by at least 20 per cent.

Approximately $10,000,000,000 worth of construction work is needed in the United States as a result of the national housing shortage. A reduction of this cost by 10 per cent. will tend to break exorbitant rents and increase the number of available apartments and dwellings for small families.

You can't convience a single government official in Washington that there is to be a strike of railway employees on October 30.—The president, the members of his cabinet and other high officers of Uncle Sam who are supposed to be in immediate touch with the transportation situation are optimistic about the results of the deliberations between the members of the Railway Labor Board and the representatives of the five Big Brotherhoods. But nevertheless and notwithstanding, every arm of the service that would be affected by a walk-out on the part of the railroad workers is making plans for combatting the strike should it take place. Attorney General Daugherty has been conferring with five U. S. attorneys from the leading transportation centres mapping out a plan of campaign to meet any emergency which may arise. Mr. Daugherty has made a careful survey of the situation and expresses the utmost confidence that a strike will not take place.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace before becoming a member of the Harding Cabinet used to publish a number of farm journals in his home state of Iowa. He still holds a controlling interest in these publications and they have a wide circulation in agricultural communities throughout the West and Middle West.

PARLEY OPENING IS LIMITED TO 5 BIG NATIONS

U. S., England, France, Italy and Japan Only Powers In Initial Session

FOUR OTHERS GUESTS

Status of Each Government Invited To Participate Is Explained By State Department.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Only five of the nine governments to be represented at the Disarmament Confernc will participate formally in the opening session of that body and the same group of nations, it was reiterated in official circles today, will partiicpate in those proceedings which deal with the limitation or the reduciton of armaments.

The United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, through their plenipotentiaries, will open the Conference, Representatives of Belgium, China, Holland and Portugal will be the guests of the major group at the initial session, but it is now indicated that they will not be present, even as guests, when the issue of armaments is immediately before the powers.

Because there has been misunderstanding both here and abroad as to the exact status of each of the nine governments invited to the Conference, it has been thought advisable by officials of the American State Department to indicate very clearly what considerations governed this Government in issuing the invitations for the Conference.

It was realized at the outset that a world conference on the question of armaments was impracticable. It would be too large for the accomplishment of swift and decisive results, if not too large to accomplish any results. For that reason it was decided that the five Allied and associated powers should be asked to confer, each of which maintains either heavy land or sea forces or both.

COLUMBIAN PLAYERS

The Columbian Players are manifesting considerable interest in their Hallowe'en Mask Dance which will be held at a counntry estate five miles outside of the city. A committee in charge of arrangements is looking after every detail that will insure an enjoyable time for the members who are expected to attend in full numbers. Transportation has been provided for by the committee, and the affair will have every feature of a real old time Hollowe'en party. Instead of ice cream and cake, companions at the average party, there will be an abundance of hot coffee, sandwiches and pumpkin pie.

Next Wednesday evening the Columbian Players journey to Baltimore to produce their show in the large auditorium of Mt. St. Joseph's College. The players will leave Washington at 6 o'clock in the evening, and will be met at Mt. Royal Station, Baltimore, by busses that will convey them to the theater The performance is a benefit one, and the proceeds will be devoted to Leonard Hall School at Leonardtown, Maryland. Norris P. Roland is directing the players.

Minister Refunded By Honest Groceryman

A prominent minister was walking on King street this morning and was nearly overcome when he was accosted by a grocer who presented him with $11.20 which the grocer told him he had overpaid in settling his monthly account.

The minister said he is now thoroughly convinced that there are a few worth while people left in the world after all despite reports to the contrary.

DIES SUDDENLY

Albert Lee Stricken on the Street Yesterday Afternoon at 4 O'Clock

While walking yesterday afternoon Albert Lee an old resident was stricken, at the corner of Washington and Cameron streets, with a hemorhage and picked up by W. E. Latham, Jr., and placed in an automobile and taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where life was pronounced extinct. The deceased was employed as a carpenter at the Washington Navy Yard. He lived in the Market Space with his son. He is survived by two children, Mrs. Alice Simpson and James Lee.

The body was taken to Wheatley's mortuary chapal from whence the funeral will take plase at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The deceased was a member of Alexandria Council No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans. Members of that organization will attend the funeral.

FLORIDA STRUCK BY DEVASTATING TROPICAL STORM

Practically All Cities In Darkness With All Business Suspended

TAMPA UNDER WATER

Heavy Damage To Shipping On Both Coasts Reported—Wireless Stations Crippled.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 26.—The business section of Tampa is under three feet of water as a result of the Gulf storm, according to advices reaching here last night over crippled transmission lines. No loss of life has been reported, but industry is at a standstill. The entire west coast of Florida is feeling the effects of the storm and is virtually isolated so far as communication is concerned.

Tampa is without lights, telegraph, telephone or street car service, according to the advices which were received here by way of Plant City, about 30 miles northeast of Tampa.

Heavy rains are reported falling over the entire state. Forty miles inland from Tampa in the section around Lakeland and Plant City the truck crops have suffered serious damage. The highways are virtually impassable because of fallen trees.

Officials of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, with division headquarters at Lakeland, report interruption of service south of Tampa with water three feet deep over the tracks between Punta Gorda and Boca Grande.

The flooded area in Tampa was described as extending from the bay shore sea wall to the heart of the business section, a distance of about a mile. Fashionable residences along the bay shore drive were reported badly damaged from the high water. A gale of 56 miles an hour was reported in that city.

At Plant City the rainfall for the last 48 hours registered 4.26 inches with a wind of 35 miles an hour blowing. Railroad officials reported they were unable to communicate with any intermediate stations between Plant City and Tampa. A number of cattle are reported drowned.

No information as to the plight of Petersburg, 20 miles across the bay from Tampa, has been received, but it is believed the city is fearing much the same as Tampa. Both cities are protected by a sea wall.

The heavy rains throughout the State have thrown many cities and towns in darkness because of the disruption of power plant facilities. Notable among these are St. Augustine and Orlando. At St. Augustine pedestrians and property were endangered by broken live wires dangling across the streets. Three small blazes in the business section also resulted. Orlando was in total darkness and newspaper plants suspended along with other business.

The wireless station at St. Augustine reported it had heard no distress calls throughout the day and that communication with west coast stations had failed.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Mrs. Fadely of This City, Injured In Washington

Washington, D. C., Oct. 25.—In view of hundreds of persons shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Ninth street and Pennsylvania Avenue, northwest, Mrs. Marian Fadely, 35 years old, 134 North Payne street, Alexandria, Va., was struck by a trolley car and critically injured. She failed to notice the car as she attempted to cross the street. She was thrown a considerable distance.

The car was in charge of Motorman J. D. Collins and Conductor G. B. Wolford, of the Capital Traction Company. Major Harry L. Gessford, superintendent of police, was on the scene and rushed the injured woman to the Emergency Hospital. She is suffering from a probable fracture of the skull, besides cuts and bruises to the head and body.

UNION SERVICES

These services are being well attended and are very helpful. Last evening was filled with many good things. Rev. C. H. Compher, pastor of First Church, Washington, D. C., delivered a wonderful sermon, taking as his subject, "Christ's challenge to men." Every one enjoyed it. The singing was fine.

Rev. D. H. Martin, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, conducted the service.

This evening at the same hour the Rev. Robert Browne, pastor of the church, will be the speaker. He will tell the story of his life which is a thrilling one. Rev. Browne served as an officer in the British army for thirteen years, taking part in three wars, India, Egypt and South Africa. He also served in West Africa, a place commonly known amongst military men as the white man's grave. This man for twenty years would not enter a church, but nine years ago, this man gave his heart to God, and since that time he has been engaged in Christian service, helping men and women to lead better lives. Come out and hear this story.

Indorse Decrease in Freight Rates By Trolley Line

The traffic and transportation bureau of the chamber of commerce held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which time the bureau indorsed the proposed reduction in freight rates between Alexandria and Washington over the Washington-Virginia Railway which it is stated will be between fifteen and twenty per cent

STATE NEWS

Danville—Announcement was made today at headquarters of the City Democratis Committee that Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague will make a campaign address here on Thursday night at the Municipal Hall. It will be his first public appearance here for several years and it is expected that there will be a large crowd on hand. Congressman Montague, who represents the Third Virginia District, resided in Danville about fifteen years ago. Next Wednesday night Henry W. Anderson, Republican candidate for Governor, will appear here and discuss the issues of the campaign.

Richmond—More than seventy-five members of the Virginia State Optical Association, affiliated with the American Optometric Association, will attend the nineteenth annual convention to be held at Murphy's Hotel, Oct. 29. Dr. A. S. Mitchell will address the convention on "Diseases of the Eye." W. S. Granger, vice-president of the association, will probably on "Renscopy." Dr. F. D. Jackson and Harold Weidenfeld, of Richmond will also be on the program.

Suffolk—Two men were killed and two cut and bruised out at the Four-County Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon, when one side of the concrete water tank collapsed and fell on a cook tent, which was being erected.

L. B. Mensch and Fred Devenney died from their injuries later at a hospital, and Harvey Manin and Carl Taylor, who suffered slight cuts on the head and neck were treated, but are not badly hurt.

Fredericksburg—The Virginia Amateur Field Trial Association, opened today their annual trials to continue through Tuesday, on the plantation of Charles B. Cocke, near Beaver Dam, Hanover County. A number of local sportsmen are competing in these trials with their dogs. Quite a party from here motored down to be present both days. C. B. Carmichael's Mathews' Mitt won the cup in the all-age stage last year, and is a strong contender for the same honors this year.

Richmond—A score or more of men were overcome by smoke fumes and heat and a dozen others had a narrow escape from death in fighting a forest fire that burned over a body of woods 300 acres in area in the vicinity of Laurel, Henrico County, destroying timber to the extent of several thousands of dollars and threatening many farmhouses.

Richmond—When the Virginia Conference, M. E. Church, South, adjourned at 10:10 o'clock last night until 9 o'clock this morning, five of the eight delegates to the General Conference to be held in Hot Springs, Ark., May 3, next year, had been elected, and two of the four lay member alternate deligates, including one woman, Mrs. Lee Britt, of Suffolk, had been chosen.

Richmond—Thirty-six of the 118 applicants for licenses to practice pharmacy in this State, and who took the examination before the State Board of Pharmacy, were successful, it was announced. Nine qualified as assistant pharmacists, six Virginia physicans were authorized to practice pharmacy, and eight pharmacists from other states were licensed under the reciprocity agreement.

W. Mosby was seriously wounded before shooting to death a young moonshiner.

Lynchburg—The State offices of the Virginia Farmers' Co-Operative and Educational Union here have issued a charter for a new local in Prince William county. This is the fiftieth union formed during the jw w8fi mrmodom o o o o doom present year.

Suffolk—Forest fires are raging in various parts of the Great Dismal Swmp in the vicinity of Suffolk, and daily the pungent odor of burning leaves and trees is wafted to the city. Long weeks of unusual and prolonged drought has made the forests dry and inflammable, and lack of water as well as the clouds of hot smoke are driving the animals towards the centers of civilization.

Mrs. Thomas J. Davis, of 501 Wolfe street, has returned to her home after an extended visit to friends and relatives in Richmond, Va. Miss Oliver B. Davis accompanied her mother on the trip and will return to the city November 1st.

DEFERS JOINT SESSION FOR AN ELECTION

Councilman Kaufman Tenders Resignation as Member

BANKS SEEK REFUND

To Improve Road to Glass Factory—Orded 127 Sidewalks Improved—Other Matters Presented.

After common council last night completed its business it invited the board of aldermen to hold a joint session for the purpose of electing a fire chief and four school trustees The aldermen, however, refused to get into a joint session and the election went over. Council first was notified of the vacancies September 13. A joint session was promised September 27 and it failed to materialize. Since the last named date two meetings have been held, October 11 and October 27 without action.

Jerome Kaufmann, a member of common council from the second ward for the past seven years, last night tendered his resignation as such effective at once. Councilman McCaffrey moved it be laid on the table till after school trustees and a fire chief was elected. This motion carried, but afterward Councilman Wattles moved the resignation be ccepted, it being explained that Councilman Kaufmann was anxious to quit and the resignation was accepted. It is expected that the vacancy will be filled at the next meeting.

Resolution of the finance committee to refund the three national banks of the city the sum of $10,491.10 for erroneous assessment on bank stock was referred to the finance committee. It is divided as follows: First National, $4,958.47, Citizens' National, $4,256.96, Alexandria National, $1,248.74.

A copy of the decree entered in the circuit court by Judge Brent certifying that in the special election held October 4 last, 1479 votes were cast for the council manager plan form of city government and 324 against the measure was received and ordered spread on the minutes.

Resolutions providing for the improvement of 127 sidewalks in the city, 99 of which are on North Columbus street, were read and adopted. The cost of the work will be assessed against the property owners.

Councilman Ticer resented a resolution appropriating $500 for the improvements of North Fairfax street, leading to the plant of the Old Dominion Glass Company and it was adopted. The aldermen amended the resolution by providing for a similar appropriation for the improvement of Wilkes street from Alfred street westward leading to the cemeteries of the city. A committee composed of Messrs. Ticer, Baggett and Downham was appointed to confer with the aldermen on this and other measures. The committee reported that the aldermen concurred when they were assured that steps would be taken at once to improve the road leading to the cemeteries.

Councilman Devers offered a resolution for the placing of two lights in Reinicker's lane, near Duke street extenedd and Diagonal road and it ws referred to the committee on light and finance. Each light will be sixty candle power.

Resolution of Councilman Ticer to replace the present light at Fairfax and Franklin streets with a 400 candle power light was referred to the committee on light.

Councilman Desmond introduced a resolution appropriating the sum of $1,400 for to pay outstaniding bills of the fire department, the present appropriation being exhausted. It was referred to the joint committee on finance and fire.

Ordinance of Councilman Devers requiring all trains and cars of the Washington-Virginia Railway to come to a full stop at Cameron and West and King and West streets, was referred to the street committee.

The city school board petitioned for the improvement of the square on West street, betwen King and Cameron streets, and that automobiles speed signs be placed at King and Henry, King and Patrick, Alfred and Prince, and Prince and Alfred streets, this being the school zone was referred to the joint committee on streets and finance.

The school board also petitioned council for the installation of gas in the Alexandria High School for laboratory work and gas in the Parker-Gray School for domestic science work. It was referred to the joint committee on light and finance.

TODAY'S THOUGHT A power has risen up in the government greater than the people themselves, consisting of many and various and powerful interests, combined into one mass, and held together by the cohesive power of the vast surplus in the banks.
John C. Calhoun.

THE SOUTH'S DEVELOPMENT

We said in a recent editorial that the South had staggered under a burden, laid upon her by the War between the States, greater than that left by the World War upon the Germans and their allies. That her recuperation had been little short of amazing, and that the next fifty years would see her foremost in the United States, in not one but many things. Poverty-stricken in 1880, handicapped by a bestial government of carpet-baggers, it took years before she could get even a fair start.

We desire to make one change in our statement: instead of fifty years, the time required for her pre-eminence will be less than ten years.

The statistician of the Manufacturers Record has been analysing the figures of the 1920 census, and the results are startling. For instance, the capital invested in the South, in manufacturing in 1880, was 330 millions of dollars, with products valued at 623 millions. In 1920, the capital amounted to nearly seven billions, with a value of about ten billions. The amount of capital invested in 1920 was equal to over 88 per cent of the total amount invested in the rest of the country in 1900; and the products of southern factories for the census year of 1920 was nearly equal to the total value of the manufactured products of the rest of the United States in 1900. Between 1910 and 1920 the capital invested in Southern manufacturing increased about four billions of dollars. In the same period the value of the manufactured products increased about seven billions.

The South is now producing the same total value of manufactures as the entire country outside of the South less than twenty years ago. This marvelous increase has challenged the attention of the world and makes it almost certain that the industrial development of the same section during the next decade will be unequalled by any other area of equal size anywhere on the globe.

The interesting question arises: is Virginia advancing pari passu with the other states of the South? We regret to say that apparently she is not. North and South Carolina and Georgia, for instance, have had untold millions of foreign Capital poured into their manufactures during the last thirty years. It is fairly up to the Old Dominion to see that she gets her share. With the spirit of enterprise and progress now prevailing, and with the energies of the people stirred up, as they should be, we are sanguine of the future. In the meantime, let Alexandria bestir herself, likewise, and lead the procession!

The Oceans

The Pacific is fully a mile deeper than any other ocean.

Four-fifths of the world's halibut supply comes from the waters of the United States' Pacific Coast.

The route from England to India is strewn with treasures of lost vessels, the estimated value of which reaches $400;000,000.

In the polar regions the seas contain a much less proportion of salt than at the equator.

In a ton of water from the Atlantic there is 31 pounds of salt; a ton of water from the Dead Sea contains 187 pounds of salt.

The blue of the ocean is not, as generally supposed, due to the reflection nof the sky, but to the salt contained in ocean water.

According to the Geodetic Survey the waters of the oceans gradually grow colder until a depth of four miles is reached, where the temperature is 35 degrees. Because of the interior heat of the earth, the water at this depth again becomes warmer.

By estimating the weight of salt in the ocean, and comparing it with the rate of inflow of salt from the rivers July has concluded that the age of the ocean does not exceed 100,000,000 years.

The deepest place in the ocean yet found, 5,269 fathoms, or about six miles, was discovered by the United States steamship Nero, in 1899, at latitude 12 degrees 43 minutes north, longtitude 145 degrees 49 minutes east.

Detroit and Boston Mayors In Fight To Conquer Unemployment Evil

ANDREW J. PETERS JAMES COUZENS

Andrew J. Peters, Mayor of Boston, and James Couzens, Mayor of Detroit, were two members of President Harding's Unemployment Conference who helped to work out the plan of municipal emergency action toward relieving the situation which threatens with regard to unemployment this winter. Each of them left the conference in its early stages to put the plans in operation in his own city and each of them has accepted membership in a hold-over committee which will be at the service of every community that heeds President Harding's appeal for nation-wide action.

Colonel Arthur Woods, former Police Commissioner of New York and later Assistant to the Secretary of War, was asked by Herbert Hoover, chairman of the conference, to remain in Washington during the period of the emergency and, under the Department of Commerce, head the work of coordinating municipal effort.

"Cities and towns must be relied upon for immediate attack upon the emergency," said the report of Colonel Woods' committee. "Whatever is done must take place in local communities and the citizens of such communities are the ones responsible and capable of seeing that the necessary measures are carried out. This but repeats the first principle of American life, reliance upon local initiative and obligation."

However, the full benefit of the experiences of scores of communities now at work are available for any cities entering the fight. Mayors and members of emergency committees are invited to communicate with Colonel Woods.

The reason for the continued good health of some children is simple enough

Especially when you know the facts, some of which are given here

EVERY mother is proud of a healthy, strong youngster that radiates buoyant life and energy. She has reason to be proud, because the child's good health proves her wisdom in the selection of the food she gives her boy or girl.

All mothers should know that growing children require a balanced diet, a diet containing the food elements needed for building and energizing the little body.

Grape-Nuts, the rich, nourishing food made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, served with milk or cream, contains the materials the child needs for its best growth and development.

Grape-Nuts helps make sound teeth, strong nerves and pure red blood, and for the palate there is nothing more wholesome or delicious.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of strength-giving Grape-Nuts. Let the children have all they want, with milk, cream or stewed fruit, or made into an appetizing pudding. Grape-Nuts is a food that will be relished by every member of the family.

MARRIAGE AGENCY OFFICE

In England, and sometimes in America, wives and husbands have been sought for and obtained by means of advertisements in the newspapers.—They order this matter somewhat different in France—in Paris. M. Villiaume has opened a Matrimonial Agency Office, where the personal charms, fortune and pretensions, of candidates for the hymenial state are duly registered.—Names are kept secret untill satisfaction is expressed at all other particulars, and then the parties are introduced in the appartments of the Agent. M. Villiaume has announced that in the last year he effected the marriage of 206 couples.

STATE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Election November 8, 1921.

For Governor, E. Lee Trinkle, of Wythe.

For Lieutenant Governor, J. E. West, of Nansemond.

For Sec. of the Commonwealth, B. O. James, of Richmond City.

For Attorney General, John R. Saunders, of Middlesex.

For State Treasurer, Charles A. Johnston, of Montgomery.

For Supt. Public Instruction, Harris Hart, of Roanoke City.

For Commissioner of Agriculture and Immigration, George W. Koiner, of Augusta.

For member of the State Corporation Commission, Berkley D. Adams, of Charlotte.

The Triangle Sport Club of this city, defeated the George Mason High School of Del Ray, Va., yesterday by the score of 12 to 0.

Blunt and Crupper made the touchdowns, although the Triangles held them down. The Triangles team work conquered against weight. Every player on the Triangles held his man, and the George Masons were unable to get any nearer than 20 yards to the local team's goal.

The Triangles are trying to arrange a game with the Washington A. C., of Washington, D. C., for next Sunday. Practice every night this week.

Red Cross Aids Soldiers

One hundred and forty-four thousand, nine hundred and ninety-four men who served in the armed forces of the United States during the World War have been aided in their fight to get back to normal life in the past six months by chapters of the Southern Division of the American Red Cross. During the same period 21,280 disabled soldiers, still in the service, largely men who are recovering in government hospitals, have been pledged through the same agency. These figures were given out by the Southern Division Headquarters for the first half year of its operations.

In a great percentage of these cases, it was this work of the Red Cross, which permitted the veteran or the member of his family to receive the monetary comensation that the government is glad to give.

When the peace time program for the year was outlined by officials of the Red Cross, it was determined to make soldier relief work, the paramount idea of the organization. This was decided on for a two-fold reason. The Red Cross is chartered to serve during periods of great national stress or local disaster. The war had ended but the results of war were still with the nation. The Red Cross conceived that it owed the same or a higher duty to the ex-service man, who was struggling against the handicaps of shell-torn body, gas eaten lungs, and artillery wracked brain in his battle to meet conditions of a practical world, that it gave so efficiently when that same man was wearing his uniform and fighting his country's fight.

Again the Red Cross realized that with the natural reaction from war conditions, the soldier and his cause must suffer unless some great humanizing agency took particular and sedulous care that this didn't happen

This work was carried on in the widest possible scope. No soldier problem was too small; nor were there any too large.

The Red Cross was always willing to help in obtaining compensation, vocational training, hospital treatment, maintaining family ties while the veteran was recovering his usefulness, making the dull routine of hospital life endurable, finding employment, providing the human touch everywhere.

And when the program for the new year is outlined, soldier work will again be of paramount importance. The number of disabled men in government hospitals is growing instead of diminishing with the renewed activity of the veterans bureau. Social work among the men who served the nation becomes more imperatively necessary every month.

This year $10,000,00 was spent by the Red Cross in soldier relief. Next year the appropriation for this work will, of necessity, be larger. On that account the officials at Division Headquarters are expecting and working for an unanimous response on the part of Southern people when the Red Cross Roll is called on November 11.

DON'T MISTAKE THE CAUSE

Many Alexandria People Have Kidney Trouble and Do Not Know It.

Do you have backache?
Are you tired and worn out?
Feel dizzy, nervous and depressed?
Are the kidney secretions irregular?
Highly colored; contain sediment?
Likely your kidneys are at fault.
Weak kidneys give warning of distress.
Heed the warning; don't delay—
Use a tested kidney remedy.
Read this Alexandria testimony.

William L. Nalls, 540 S. Patrick St., says: "My back ached all the time and the pains through my loins were so severe I thought they would kill me. My kidneys were congested and the kidney secretions caused me much annoyance. Nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at C. W. Summers' Drug Store. I was relieved of the misery in my back after I had taken a few. Since using three boxes of Doan's, my kidneys have been in good condition and my back has never caused me any trouble."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Nalls had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

600 block North Henry street, which sewer Councilman Baggett explained would take care of thirty-one tenants was referred to the committee on streets and finance.

The health department, Dr. L. E. Foulks, city health officer, reported a survey of the foregoing section had been made recently and they urged prompt action for a sewer of the foregoing blocks to relieve conditions. This also was referred to the committee on streets and finance

Permission was granted Mrs. Sarah N. Hendrick to erect porch at 110 North Patrick street. Petition of Davis and Budwesky on behalf of residents of Johnston's subdivision in North Rosemont for gutters, was referred to the joint committee on streets and finance. Deed for streets in this subdivision from L. Morgan Johnston was referred to street and finance committees. The joint committee on fire and finance recommended an appropriation of $467 for the purchase of rubber tires for the fire department and resolution was adopted.

War Hero Honored

Representing the Virginia Department of the American Legion at the burial of the unknown American soldier in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington on November 11, Armistice Day, will be Benjamin Franklin Smith, a member of Matthews Post, No. 3, of Matthews, Va. He will go to Washington on November 10th, as the guest of the government, and will remain there until after the ceremonies in the national cemetery. Hiss appointment has just been announced by Dr. Junius F. Lynch, Department Commander.

Mr. Smith was a private in the Fifth Regiment of Marines, Second Division, and was wounded in the left hand and arm at Blanc Ridge on October 4, 1918. In the Belleau Wood engagement his platoon leader was killed in attacking a machine-gun nest, and Smith took command of it. He led a successful charge on the nest, completely wiping it out and cpturing the gunners. For this bravery he was decorated with the Croix de Guerre by the French Government.

On his return to civil life, Mr. Smith entered railroading, and is now a soliciting freight agent at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, president of the Virginia Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, delivered a stirring address in Richmond last week incident to the meeting of the State Executive Committee of the Auxiliary. She took up especially the responsibilities of men and women under the changed conditions of today.

Dr. Barrett declared that the World War was but a completion of the Revolutionary War, "Our boys going to Europe to do for the World what our ancestors did for us at that time," She said that all the wars of this country had not been for aggrandizement, no territory being taken, but were for liberty and freedom.

Discussing suffrage for women, she urged them not to run for office mbu to vote to place the most capable person in the various offices.

One hundred or more units, divisions, regiments and companies will have reunions at the Third Annual National Convention, of the American Legion in Kansas City on October 31, November 1 and 2, according to Virginia Headquarters of the Legion. Meeting places will be designated for each unit for the holding of these reunions.

NOTICE

Annual meeting of stockholders of the Washington Safe Deposit Company, Inc., will be held at the office of the company, 111 South Fairfax street, Alexandria, Virginia, on Tuesday, November 1, 1921, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

A Mystery Cake
Can you name it?

Here is another new Royal Cake, so delicious and appetizing that we have been unable to give it a name that does justice to its unusual qualities. It can be made just right only with Royal Baking Powder. Will you make it and name it?

$500 for the Best Names

For the name selected as best, we will pay $250. For the second, third, fourth, and fifth choice, we will pay $100, $75, $50, and $25 respectively.

Anyone may enter the contest, but only one name from each person will be considered.

All names must be received by December 15th, 1921. In case of ties, the full amount of the prize will be given to each tying contestant. Do not send your cake. Simply send the name you suggest, with your own name and address, to the

ROYAL BAKING POWDER COMPANY
128 William Street, New York

How to make it
Use level measurements for all materials

½ cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
Grated rind of ½ orange
1 egg and 1 yolk
2½ cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1 cup milk
1¼ squares (1½ ozs.) of unsweetened chocolate (melted)
¼ teaspoon salt

Cream shortening. Add sugar and grated orange rind. Add beaten egg yolks. Sift together flour, salt and Royal Baking Powder and add alternately with the milk; lastly fold in one beaten egg white. Divide batter into two parts. To one part add the chocolate. Put by tablespoonfuls, alternating dark and light batter, into three greased layer cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 20 minutes.

FILLING AND ICING

3 tablespoons melted butter
3 cups confectioner's sugar (Powdered sugar may be used but does not make as smooth icing)
Grated rind of ½ orange and pulp of 1 orange
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 egg white
3 squares (3 ozs.) unsweetened chocolate

Put butter, sugar, orange juice and rind into bowl. Cut pulp from orange, removing skin and seeds, and add. Beat all together until smooth. Fold in beaten egg white. Spread this icing on layer used for top of cake. While icing is soft, sprinkle with unsweetened chocolate shaved in fine pieces with sharp knife (use ½ square). To remaining icing add 2½ squares unsweetened chocolate which has been melted. Spread this thickly between layers and on sides of cake.

Around the World

(For The Gazette)

Persia has no distilleries, breweries or saloons.

Canada produces 90 per cent of the world's cobalt.

Bolivia has become the second largest tin producing country in the world.

China claims to have issued a newspaper in the early centuries of the Christian era.

The Aland Islands are located in the Gulf of Bothnia and have been awarded to Finland by the league of nations.

Newfoundland belongs to Great Britain. It has an area of about 40,200 square miles. The deep sea fisheries are about the only source of wealth and industry.

The island of Sardinia, consisting chiefly of marshes or mountains, has, from the earliest period to the present, been cursed with a noxious air, an ill cultivated soil, and a scanty population. The convulsions produced by its poisonous plants gave rise to the expression sardonic smile," which is as old as Homer.

France had a population before the war of 38,468,000. On March 6, this year, the population was only 36,034,206.

Canada, in 1919, was only thirteenth among maritime nations. Since then she has risen to eighth place, with nearly 9,000 vessels.

Alaska has 200,000 reindeer, 70 per cent of which are owned by Eskimos. The first domestic reindeer brought to Alaska were imported in 1892 from Siberia.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our mother and wife, FANNIE B. SMITH, who departed this life five years ago today, October 26, 1916.
We always think of you dear mother,
And our hearts are sad with pain,
This world would be Heaven to us
Could you be with us again.
I sit and think of you dear mother,
When I am all alone,
I miss your dear, sweet smiling face
Here in our lonely home.
Days of sadness still come over us,
Hidden tears so often flow,
Memory keeps our mother near us,
Although she died five years ago.
By her husband and daughters.

MARRIED

October 22, 1921, at St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, Virginia, by the Rev. Dr. Berryman Green, assisted by the Rev. Dr. William Jackson Morton and the Rev. Percy Foster Hall, FERGUSON BEACH BRYAN, U. S. N., and ANNE ELIZABETH CABELL, of Norwood, Nelson Co., Virginia. 255-1p.

THERE IS VIGOR IN RICH BLOOD

Pepto-Mangan in Liquid or Tablets—A Blood Builder

Vigor and strength have as their base rich red blood. Blood is rich when there are plenty of red corpuscles. They are the tiny red cells which swim in blood and give it its color. Without red corpuscles blood would be white. When overwork, or straining, or illness weakens the blood, it diminishes the number of red cells. Without a sufficient number of red cells the blood becomes watery, the body weak. Vigor and strength fall off, so that physical life diminishes like a fading plant. The physical pleasures of eating and sleeping and exercise lose all attraction. There is no zest in living.

After Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been taken for a while the blood becomes rich with red cells. They help to nourish the entire system. With good blood at work there is a great difference in living. Eating, sleeping and exercise are enjoyed. All druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Mangan. (Adv.)

About Avocets and Stilts.

"DID you ever hear of a pug nosed bird, Stella?" Snookums asked the Wishing Fairy.

"Yes," she returned, "an Avocet's nose turns upward. Why?"

"There's a queer looking bird near the Get Little Pool," the Brownie answered.

"What does it look like?"

"It's about fifteen inches long."

"What color?"

"White, with brown head and neck, black wings and long blue legs. It has a very long bill that curves at the end."

"Oh, that's an American Avocet!" cried Stella. "I'll go and see it."

"Aren't you often called a 'Blue Stocking'?" she asked the bird when she reached its waiting place.

"Yes," the Avocet answered timidly, "but I can't imagine why; because Blue Stocking is the name used for those who are very clever and who know a great deal. I'm not clever—and I don't know much at all."

Stella turned quickly to the bird.

"Your saying that," she said, "shows that you know a great deal."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean," Stella explained, "that it is usually the case that those who know but little think they know a lot, while those who have studied and studied and who have spent years in learning realize how very little they really know or ever can know compared to the tremendous amount of things there are yet to be learned in life."

"I see," the bird murmured thoughtfully.

Stella was silent for a minute, for both she and the Avocet were thinking of what she had just said.

"Have you a wish?" the Fairy asked. "Is that why you came to me?"

"Yes," answered the Avocet, "and I hope you will make it come true. I want webbed feet ever so much."

"You shall have them," Stella said, and scarcely were the words out of her mouth than she began waving her magic wand over the bird, which stared breathlessly down at its feet. Sure enough, between each toe a thick skin already was growing.

"Oh, I'm so glad!" it exclaimed. "I love the water, and every water bird should have webbed feet. It is so convenient when one is walking on the sand. Thanks ever so much, Stella, dear. You have made me awfully happy."

"Are you a cousin of the Stilt?" the Fairy asked with a smile.

"Yes," the Avocet answered, "and also to the Snipe. The Stilt and I are very often taken one for the other, and yet we are quite different, for he is called 'Long Shanks' on account of his terribly long legs, which are longer than those of any other fifteen-inch bird."

"And a Stilt's bill is straight," Stella said, "and his legs are pink."

"Have you ever seen the eggs of a Stilt?"

"No," the Fairy answered, "What are they like?"

"Pale yellow, with brown blotches, and," the bird continued, "Stilts live in companies of several families. They build their nests on the ground at first; the second lot of nests are then built on top of the first. The third lot are built on top of the second, and so on until after a while they are quite high up off the ground. The nests look like a cluster of little towers."

LITTLE STORIES OF THE STREET
By The Man About Town

One day in Washington,
My wife asked me
Why passers-by stopped
To stare at other
Passers-by,
After the manner of the Country town and not
A large city.
And I told her,
That the city people
Never rubbered.
That it was the outside people,
Always on the lookout
For old friends from home.
For the world is wide,
And it matters not how far one
Travels, or how big the city,
One always meets with old friends.
Presently, she sniffed
And gave me a nudge and said—
"I wonder if that
Elderly gentleman, with snow
In his hair,
Thinks he recognizes
Friends from back home in
Those two pair of
Grey silk stockings?"

The price of steel rails has been reduced seven dollars per ton. Who eats steel rails anyway?

A soft answer turneth away wrath. But it does't want to be too soft—you might be taken for a pussy footer.

A few years ago life was facetiously epitomized as "the passing show." Today one may label it "the passing side-show" and not miss the bulls-eye a city block.

Experts are advising a programme of insurance against unemployment. The best insurance against unemployment is productive labor. Get on the job and deliver the goods and the unemployment situation will take care of itself automatically.

With thousands of untilled acres standing idle in the States of Maryland and Virginia the time worn slogan, "go west, young man," looses its wallop. "Get back to the farm, young man," sounds like practical advice to the average citizen. The war made a lot of poor mechanics out of good farmers, And the war is over!

The Burgomaster of Anheim, a German village, has issued a ukase reading: "Thou shalt not gossip." Which is a very good thing in its way but it would take all of Hindenburg's rusted bayonets to enforce such a command in Germany—and in Virginia, it would be a sheer impossibility.

A crippled Chicago beggar rode to his down town stand in a limousine and shocked the sensibilities of a curious policeman by tipping the chauffeur handsomely. Hauled into into court the efficiency expert of Beggardom explained that his income from gratuities exceeded twenty five dollars each day and he could afford the luxury of a limousine. And thousands of cripple ex-service men, refusing to capitalize their misfortunes in so discreditable a manner, go supperless to bed every time Old Sol sinks in the west. Oh, gratitude thou hast a sting!

Jack Dempsey, pugilist par-excellence, has a new bee in his bonnet. Jack is going into vaudeville. He engaged Bee Palmer to assist him, and Bee's husband wants two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to salve his bruised and battered heart. Some sting to that little Bee!

She breezed into a local drug emporium and calmly counted out sixteen coppers. Laying them on the counter she flashed a smile at the clerk and said: "Eight two's, please."

"I am sorry madame, but we don't keep them."

"That's strange. The drug stores in Washington always do."

"The post-office is just around the corner. We—" With a toss of her head the lady hurried into the street.

"It's this way," confided the proprietor, to the Man About Town, "We had a sub-station here at one time. The Government allowed us two hundred and fifty dollars a year to maintain it. We lost money as long as we had it. Then we let it go. Others have tried since, but no one ever made it pay its way. You can't sell one hundred dollars worth of postage stamps for a hundred dollars in a drug store. Two cents is a small item. People haven't change and we can't charge it. Likewise we can't ask them for it. Consequently we don't handle postage stamps." And, candidly, we don't blame him a bit. It is poor business.

Two small boys were fighting on South Washington street and the usual crowd soon collected. One of the youngsters had a Jess Willard crouch and the other a Mike Gibbons straight left. It was nip and tuck up one side and down the other, and we enjoyed it immensely.

They circled, side stepped and waltzed around while their enthusiastic backers whooped it up.

"Poke 'im in the nose, Bill!"

"Knock his block off, Jerry!"

A gentleman wearing a grey frock coat stopped his car at the curb and getting out separated the youthful aspirants to pugilistic honors.

"Aren't you boys ashamed of yourselves?" he questioned as he straightened his heavily rimmed glasses.

"Ah, go on—what's eatin' yuh! snapped red-headed Bill as he wiped the blood from his chin and slipped into his jacket.

"Old smarty, who asked you to butt in on this?" growled Jerry, "I could a licked that guy—"

Our lunch was waiting and we had to hurry, but we wonder if the immaculate symphony in grey ever stood toe to toe and battled his dearest enemy with his bare fists in the glorious days of golden youth when a bloody nose was the true badge of courage.

SUCCESSFUL MEETING FOR ROAD BUILDING

is a member of the Executive Committee of the Virginia Good Roads Association, and who is familiar with the state program of good roads made a clear and forceful address. Governor Westmoreland Davis gave a history of the planning of the state highway system, and among other things said that if we would have good roads the people must go down in their pockets and pay for them.

Addresses also were made by Thomas R. Keith, of Fairfax, Franklin Williams, member of the house of delegates from Fairfax, and Jos L. Bristow.

At the conclusion of the addresses it was decided to appoint a committee of five to wait on the highway commission and present their case. The following committee was named: Col. J. Y. Williams, of Alexandria, Mr. Joseph Bristow and Mason Hirst, of Annadale, and Mr Wilson Farr and Mr. Thomas Keith, of Fairfax.

The road proposed to be constructed is about ten miles and extends from a point near Alexandria to Fairfax.

PLAN DRASTIC MOVE AGAINST UNION CHIEFS

of Attorney-General Daugherty and five District Atorneys he called to Washington.

In event of the walkout actually materializing the heads of the brotherhoods and the 400 local chairmen named in the strike call will be arrested on Government warrants charging conspiracy. Other legal measures also will be adopted to prevent interference with transportation.

If the Railway Labor Board fails to avert the strike President Harding will issue a proclamation declaring the purpose of the Government to maintain transportation and giving warning of the consequences of what will be incurred by the strikers in defying the Government.

"The trains will run," emphatically asserted Mr. Daughtery following the conclusion of the conference.

Charles F. Clyne, United States Attorney at Chicago, left hurriedly for home this afternoon "under sealed orders," as he expressed it. Mr. Clyne carried with him the instructions of the Attorney-General to be communicated to other district attorneys in the West who will assemble at a conference within the next few days at St. Louis or Kansas City. This conference will make a study of the grounds for legal astion, after whish the United States attorneys will return to their districts prepared to institnte concurrent prosecution of the strike leaders at the signal from Washington.

Camp Humphrey's Notes

Sunday evening, October 23rd, at the Liberty Theater, the Thirteenth Engineer Band under the leadership of Warrant Officer Richard W. Treichel opened the program Herbert's "Mlle Modiste" and Cobb's After Glow." Colonel James A. Woodruff, Camp Commander, spoke briefly regarding the week night programs and Chaplain Perry O. Wilcox brought greetings to the men of Camp Humphreys from the men of the first and second Engineer Training Companies enroute to Fort Revere, Mass., and Fort Slocum, N. Y. Following a selection by the band, Vollsted't "Jolly Fellows" the program was concluded with moving pictures featuring Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch." This was the first Sunday evening under the new plan of paid admission which has become necessary to meet the expenses of the program. The attendance was large, the principal falling off appearing to be among those who come in from outside the camp.

Chaplain Wilcox made the first 106 miles of the march with the First and Second Companies and reported all the men in fine spirits and enjoying the march extremely well. They were camping Saturday at Belair, Md.

The night of Wednesday, October 19th was spent at Camp Meade, Md., where the Third Company which set out with the others reached its station.

IN GROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.
